

Association for Learning Environments is unique! Our principal purpose is improving the places where children learn. We embrace a diverse community of more than 5,800 professionals with one single goal – building healthy, safe, and resilient 21st century learning environments. Unlike other associations, our membership is made up of nearly every discipline involved in school planning, construction, and maintenance. From product suppliers to architects in the field, to school district facilities superintendents, we work to serve the needs of this profession. Every member matters in the Association for Learning Environments and our strength lies in our diversity. We are stronger together!
