Overview:

The A4LE Southern Region Foundation is a non-profit organization established to foster research and scholarly study regarding the impact of school facilities on student achievement. The Foundation acts as a proactive catalyst for promoting the development of quality learning environments in the A4LE Southern Region by funding scholarships and grants through the Otto D. Grove Jr. Fund.

Using a scholarship process, the Foundation intends to fund efforts in the Southern Region that address the following:

1. Awareness of A4LE and the importance of quality educational facility planning.
2. Advance the understanding of benefits gained from quality educational facilities.
3. Extend the body of knowledge related to educational facility planning.

Scholarship

This scholarship provides financial assistance for one or more individuals residing in the Southern Region states to attend the A4LE SR Annual Conference May 6-9, 2024 in Galveston, TX. This important event brings together school planners, educators, and design and construction professionals from around the region to collaborate on ideas and issues relating to the planning and design of educationally responsive schools.

Preference will be given to those who have not attended an A4LE SR Annual Conference in the recent past due to financial burden.

Eligibility Requirements

Eligibility to receive a scholarship is open to any A4LE member in good standing in the Southern Region interested in furthering their knowledge and expertise in educational facility planning and the advancement of the A4LE mission. Individuals living and working within the southern region states who are not currently members of A4LE are also eligible provided a A4LE member in good standing in the Southern Region nominates and agrees to sponsor this potential new member. The A4LE SR Foundation scholarship candidate can be selected more than once, but a minimum period of three (3) years must have passed prior to a candidate being selected a subsequent time.

Characteristics Sought in Candidates

The Foundation seeks applicants who are active members of the educational facilities planning community who demonstrate a desire to further their education on educationally responsive learning environments, and who have an interest in growing their involvement in the organization.

Ideal candidates should demonstrate a balance of the following characteristics:

1. Demonstrated financial need.
2. Active involvement in creating quality student learning environments as part of your day to day job activities.
3. Actively engaged in A4LE and the advancement of the mission (or desire to do so)
4. Desire to improve the way educational facilities are planned, designed, built, and utilized.

Selection Process

The Foundation Advisory Council will take up and consider all received applications and make a recommendation to the SR Board of Directors for a final award. Award recipient will be notified on or about March 15, 2024

About the Scholarship

The A4LE Southern Region Foundation intends to award a scholarship to one or more eligible applicants to help defray the costs of participating in the A4LE SR Annual Conference. The maximum amount of this scholarship is $1,200 and the amount of each award is going to be determined on a case-by-case basis and will primarily be established based on financial need. Expenses that are eligible for consideration include registration for the conference, travel to and from the host hotel and the applicant's home location, and up to three night's accommodations at the host hotel during the event.

Submission Requirements

Candidates must complete the online application and submit the required supplemental informational packet to the scholarship coordinator.
